Summary

I have been in the industry for over three years now, packing very experienced operational excellence as well as product excellence. Monitoring high-volume production lines, optimizing them, and getting results that are superior in quality are among my skills. Operating advanced equipment and understanding quality control and safety compliance are essential elements in my occupation. I am well recognized for quickly solving problems under pressure as well as team commitment. I am interested in being part of the solution provision process to the packaging problems, and I genuinely look forward to giving input into the packaging industry in Canada.
